Light at the End of the Tunnel

by Steve Galanis

When traffic along the Kenilworth Ave. detour route, at the Greenbelt Rd. intersection, is switched to the underpass not many days from now, drivers will have to get used to a new set of highway mergers.

The project of constructing the interchange between the two highways is near its final phase. During the first stage when the underpass is opened and traffic along Kenilworth Avenue is re-routed under the Greenbelt Road bridge, three of the newly built ramps will be put in use. All three ramps ('A', 'F', and 'B' on the map) are on the west side of the bridge (Beltway Plaza side) and will serve the connection between the new southbound Kenilworth route and Greenbelt Road.

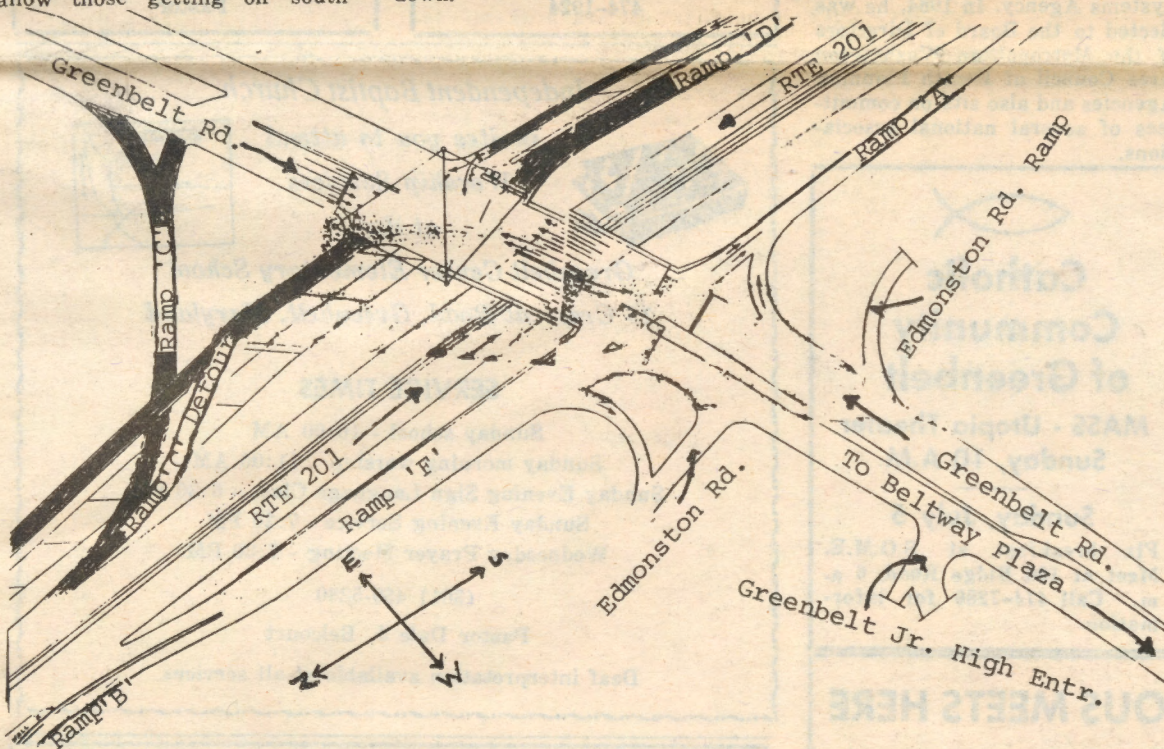

Ramp 'A' will permit motorists going in either direction on Greenbelt Road to get onto southbound Kenilworth. Ramp 'F' will allow those getting off southbound Kenilworth to make either a right (heading west) or left (heading east) on Greenbelt Rd. Ramp 'B' behind Ramp 'F' is the interchange access for those leaving Springhill Lake from Edmonston Road. In addition to turning right or left on Greenbelt Road, people using Ramp 'B' may go straight across Greenbelt Road onto Ramp 'A' in order to get onto southbound Kenilworth.

Although ramps 'C' and 'D', which will provide the connection between Greenbelt Road and northbound Kenilworth, are not ready yet, access to and from the northbound route will be possible. While road workers complete the two permanent ramps on the east side of the bridge (Golden Triangle side), motorists will be coming off or getting on the northbound route through the northbound detour route still in use. When the traffic switch is made, motorists will find, in effect, that only the southbound route presently used will be shut down.

Since traffic using the access from northbound Kenilworth to Greenbelt Road will be directed around the eventual site of ramp 'D', construction of that ramp can begin as soon as the switch is made. Completion of ramp 'C'—the access to northbound Kenilworth from Greenbelt Road—must wait until a temporary detour ramp is in place. The use of the detour ramp while ramp 'C' is under construction will mark the second stage of the project's final phase. The final stage will be when all permanent ramps are completed and open to traffic.

According to John Warnick, the area engineer for Prince Georges County, the underpass will eliminate a dangerous intersection. Traffic along Kenilworth Avenue will be unencumbered, and the volume of traffic on Greenbelt Road controlled by lights will be cut down, he said. Warnick also said traffic congestion near the bridge will be minor in comparison to what it has been.

Council Considers Boxwood Parking Restrictions; FOP Benefit Request

by Diane Oberg

Faced with divided opinion among the affected residents, the Greenbelt City Council, at its June 8 regular meeting, referred the proposed parking restrictions for portions of Boxwood Village to staff for further study. Other items on the agenda were the Fraternal Order of Police's benefit proposals, bids for an engineering study of the lake, and the Maryland

Municipal League's new insurance pool.

The meeting began with a public hearing on a proposed ordinance that would limit parking on portions of the roads in Boxwood Village to 30 minutes. Residents could obtain free permits for themselves and their guests that would allow unlimited parking. The parking restrictions would be in effect from April 1 through June 30 of each year.

The ordinance was introduced after consultations with the Boxwood Civic Association in an attempt to alleviate residents' problems caused by overflow parking from the lake park. The residents' complaints include littering by park visitors and lack of parking for residents' vehicles during peak park usage times.

Several of the speakers at the hearing thanked council for attempting to address the parking problems, but expressed some additional concerns. Among the concerns was whether the 30-minute limit would sufficiently de-

Isaacs to Seek Reelection to Greenbelt City Council

Greenbelt City Councilmember Joseph C. (Joe) Isaacs announced his candidacy for reelection before a crowd of supporters at his home last week. The election will be held on Tuesday, September 15. Isaacs is the first to announce his candidacy.

Biography

Isaacs was elected to his first term on the city council in 1985. During this term, Isaacs has also been active in the Maryland Municipal League, the National League of Cities, and the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments, where he was elected Vice Chairman of COG's Human Services Policy Committee.

Isaacs has been a civic and volunteer activist since 1966, during years of residence in the states of Maryland, Missouri, and New York. A resident of Greenbelt for the past twelve years, he, his wife Deborah, and his daughter Rachel reside on Julian Court. Previously Isaacs lived for four years at Springhill Lake.

In recognition of his professional, civic, and volunteer achievements, he was named an Outstanding Young Marylander in 1986 and received his award from the Governor. Because of his dedication and commitment to community service, Isaacs was selected in 1984 as Metropolitan Washington Volunteer Activist of the Year, as Prince Georgian of the Year, and as an Outstanding Young Man of America by the National Jaycees.

Isaacs has served on the City's Advisory Planning Board (APB), as well as its Park and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB). He has also been an active member of the Maryland Citizens Planners Association.

While president of the Boxwood Civic Association between 1982 and 1985, Isaacs was an advocate on many issues of concern to his neighborhood and to the city, including founding Boxwood's Crime Watch program in 1983. He served as Co-chairperson of See ISAACS page 2, col. 3

Plans for Schrom Hills Park Reviewed

by Mavis Fletcher

During the June 11 city council work session on bond issue priorities, information was provided on the planned development of Schrom Hills Park. Dorothy Pyles, representing the Coalition of Greenbelt East Homeowners Associations, asked the council several questions about the amount and timing of these improvements.

Her first question dealt with the amount of money being discussed for development of the park. The list of projects produced by subgroups in the strategic planning process ranked Schrom Hills Park improvement sixth on a list of seven. The average of the amount allocated by the various subgroups for the purpose was $180,000. In response to Pyles' question, City Manager James Giese said that $150,000 would come from the bond money and $30,000 from Program Open Space grant funds.

Pyles also inquired about the schedule for these improvements. Keith Chernikoff, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, said that his committee will determine their recommendations for the park at their next meeting on July 9. The committee expects to submit its report to the council at the July 13 council meeting.

Giese said that "things should move pretty fast assuming the council agrees to PRAB's recommendations." He also noted that the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission planned to start the stormwater management pond in the park this summer. However, he also noted that the WSSC work is being held up by some right-of-way problems.

Hazel D. Callahan Colleen M. Wagner

Hazel Daniels Callahan of 7 Crescent Road died Monday, June 22, at the Washington Hospital Center. She had lived in Greenbelt with her husband John J. for 33 years.

Mrs. Callahan was born and grew up in Atlantic City, New Jersey. She and Mr. Callahan were married at St. Carthage Church in Philadelphia in 1947. They moved to Greenbelt in March 1954. Mrs. Callahan worked for the U.S. Treasury Department for four years. During the years when their two daughters were growing up, she volunteered in many ways including as a room mother at St. Hugh's School. She was also active in St. Hugh's Sodality and had been a prefect.

After the death of their young daughter Maureen, Mrs. Callahan returned to work, this time for the City of Greenbelt. Beginning as a part-time cashier, she was employed in the Recreation Department's business office for 17 years where she was responsible for class registrations, finance and accounting. "Her hallmark," said Recreation Director Harry Irving, "was her pleasant smile and her happy spirit. Everyone, from kids to Golden Age Club members called her Hazel. She was their friend and the favorite of the other employees. Hazel always lent a hand at whatever the department was doing — from judging children's Hallowe'en costumes to decorating for the holidays. She was a special person."

In addition to her husband John, Mrs. Callahan leaves her daughter Linda, of Greenbelt; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daniels, of Philadelphia; her sister and brother-in-law, Helen and Joe O'Loughlin and niece Joann Rowe.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be offered at St. Hugh's church at 10 a.m. on Friday, June 26, followed by interment at Gate of Heaven Cemetery in Silver Spring. The family asks that in lieu of flowers donations may be made in her name to St. Hugh's Church.

Colleen Moriarty Wagner, 29, died on Friday, June 18, after battling cancer for 18 months. Colleen was born and grew up in Greenbelt in Boxwood Village. She attended St. Hugh's school and Elizabeth Seton High School. Active in St. Hugh's CYO and other teen organizations, she was also a Camp Pine Tree counselor several summers. She received a B.A. from Claremont College in Erie, Pennsylvania and an M.A. from Kent State in Ohio. Colleen was married to Dale Wagner and they had one son John, age two and a half. She worked as a speech pathologist while the family lived in San Antonio, Texas. They returned to Greenbelt last fall to the home of her parents for help during her illness.

Colleen is survived by her husband Dale and son John; her parents Ann and Leonard Moriarty; two sisters, Kerry and Norreen; and two brothers, Michael and Brendon. The funeral was held at St. Hugh's Church on Tuesday, June 23.

Unity Picnic at Park

On Saturday, June 27, members of the Baha'i Faith of Greenbelt will join with their co-religionists around the United States hosting picnics that will celebrate the oneness of humanity and commemorate the 75th anniversary of the first "unity picnic" held in Teaneck, New Jersey, on June 29, 1912. The Greenbelt picnic will be held at the Buddy Attick Park from 12 noon until 8 p.m. It is open to the general public, and will feature food, games, fun and fellowship.

The host for the 1912 gathering was "Abd'l Baha, son of the Prophet Founder of the BaHa'i Faith, who, at the age of sixty-eight, was traveling throughout America bringing his message of universal peace and unity among mankind.

Priorities and the Future

As a concerned Greenbelt Citizen, I was appalled at the insensitivity and one-sidedness of the June 11 editorial entitled "Second Sellout?" There hasn't been a "sellout." However, the Greenbelt voters do need to understand the basis for the proposed bond issue priorities: the police station, parcels one and two, and the swimming pools. These are the key elements of the bond issue.

I believe that the council did a good job of establishing priorities for the limited bond issue funds, given the lack of available green space and the multitude of projects considered. If the council is to be criticized for anything, it could be for moving too slowly when inflation is rapidly eroding the purchasing power of the funds.

Certainly other projects are worthy! But it was a matter of the council selecting the ones with the most support, the most needed to be done now, or that could not be done any other way.

Those of us who take pride in Greenbelt realize the need for an adequate police station, even if inflation has escalated costs and put other public building projects on hold.

Many of us live in Greenbelt by choice. Two of the main reasons are green space and recreational opportunities. We enjoy year-round options for exercise and relaxation in a more natural environment than other area communities can provide.

However, expanding green space is not the simple task many believe it to be. Yes, GHI goofed in the '50s. Yes, most of us want more parks, fields and trails. But how do we do it? Buy land at any cost? Put pressure on landowners? Initiate condemnation proceedings?

The council has made headway to acquire green space over the last two years. Council members need to communicate this to the voters so that they don't feel "betrayed." For instance, Greenbelt has added Schrom Hills Park (37 a.) and North End School (13 a.) A Lake park addition (10 a.) and Parcels one and two (100 a) are under negotiation. The process of land acquisition is a long-term proposition.

Is Greenbelt going to hold the bond money until it's purchasing power is cut by 1/3, 1/2, or more in the hope that land will somehow become available? I don't believe it was the intent of the taxpayers to see the funds consumed by inflation. We need to invest in Greenbelt's future. I know that new funding will be found. Meanwhile, council should concentrate on completing the lake park property transfer and obtaining Parcels one and two, which is a priority item, while they continue or initiate negotiations for other transfer, trade-offs, etc.

That brings us to the outdoor/indoor swimming pools. Most of the work on the outdoor pool consists of maintenance and modernization projects, which should have been done, I believe under the annual budget over several previous years. Unfortunately, needed repairs have reached the critical stage.

The indoor pool has been an issue in Greenbelt for 15 years. I looked at a file on the effort to build this pool in 1972. You could say exercise buffs, swimmers, and other aquanauts were "Sold Out" then. Will this be a "Second Sellout"?

The indoor pool will be as unique to Greenbelt as the outdoor pool was over 45 years ago. The proposed priority list includes it

Open Letter

I agree with Leonie Penney's suggestion in her recent letter to the News Review that the appropriate and ethical thing to do regarding the bond issue dilemma is to let the voters decide on September 15.

I understand Council's desire to go ahead with implementation of the bond issue projects as soon as possible, but the proposed deviation from the 2-2-2 allocation as it was originally presented to the voters in the city's official bond issue referendum brochure requires citizen approval if Council wishes to preserve its credibility.

The brochure, authorized by Mayor Pro-tem Pilski, and Councilmembers Putens, White, and Bram, lists 3 specific locations in which the city "intends to acquire more park land", and states: "The importance of green space in the original planning of Greenbelt can never be overstated. It's why Greenbelt is called Greenbelt. To a great extent it is the park areas that distinguish this community from others... it is essential to acquire park land while it is still available." Unfortunately, it now appears that a majority of Council have failed to take seriously their own arguments in support of parkland acquisition.

Some members of Council are maintaining that the 2-2-2 allocation was not really a commitment since it did not specifically appear in the text of the referendum question. Technically, that may be true, but for Council to act as if the information in the brochure and in numerous city ads in the News Review is not binding in any way is to show contempt for citizens who relied on this information as accurate. It now appears that instead of being informed, we have, in fact, been misled.

If Council decides to abandon without voter approval the 2-2-2 commitment, repeatedly emphasized in official literature and in News Review ads, they should understand that many voters will not be assuaged by technically correct but ethically weak legalistic arguments.

Swimming Benefits

I would like to emphasize my support for the indoor pool and encourage the city council to move forward in implementing its construction. We all know the non-traumatic aerobic benefits of swimming, and, with an indoor pool we will be able to experience these benefits year-round. The longer we hesitate in building the pool, the longer we disappoint the many people who voted for the bond issue solely because an indoor pool was included in its proposed projects.

D. Granite, M.D.

and the funds exist. An indoor pool cannot be done piecemeal. It will provide continuity, along with the outdoor pool, for year-round aquatic recreation, exercise, safety programs, rehabilitation, therapy and competition for infants, youths, and adults of all ages.

No one will get everything they would like from the bond issue. But everyone will get something to contribute to their pleasure, safety, and increasing property value. We need to start off the next 50 years the way we did the first 50 — investing in the future of Greenbelt.

Douglas W.S. Sutherland

Letters to the Editor

Bond Issue Questions

Do the people of Greenbelt really want more than half of the $6,000,000 bond issue funds spent on swimming pools? Do the people of Greenbelt really want to throw away their last chance to acquire the parkland and green space that almost one third of $6,000,000 would buy? Do the people of Greenbelt really want to almost double the size of the original bond issue in order to obtain something they thought they were getting in the original: increased parkland?

In a strange division of opinion, the majority of voters seem to be saying no in answer to these questions whereas the majority of City Council seems to be saying yes. Hopefully even those members of City Council that do not value parkland as highly as pools, will at least value their credibility enough not to betray the trust of the voters who supported the bond issue by radically reordering the priorities that produced the very widespread support for parks in Greenbelt. No other purchase under the bond issue will bring so much for so few dollars to so many. It is what Greenbelt is all about.

My contention is that the vast majority of Greenbelt voters support the original bond issue priorities. If any member of City Council wishes to argue about that, then let them put the issue to voters. I'm confident of the outcome. Are they?

Steven Andrew Curtis

Open Letter

As you make your decisions next week about what projects you feel are worthy of funding, I hope you all remember the message we voters sent to you two years ago at the ratio of four to one — we voted to have our taxes increased in order to improve the quality of life in Greenbelt. While we didn't vote for irresponsible or indiscriminate spending, we did vote to separate ourselves from the TRIM mentality that was crippling the rest of Prince Georges County. We voted for a city that would be better protected from crime. We voted for a city with better, multiseasonal recreational facilities. And we voted for a city better protected from the encroachment of development on its greenspace.

During the past two years, while escalating building costs have eroded the value of our six million dollar bond issue, city growth has simultaneously increased the tax base to such an extent that that same six million dollars will cost the taxpayers less than expected when it was so overwhelmingly passed.

As we enter our second fifty years as a "Great" city, please vote to fund those projects that will demonstrate that Greenbelt is as committed today to a "healthful" quality of life as it was when it began fifty years ago. The voters have already said they were willing to pay for it.

Gail Drake

Don't Scrimp

Greenbelt needs to save the maximum possible amount of green space, to renovate the outdoor pool, to construct an indoor pool, to provide a larger police station, and to use the North End school for community needs. With vision and a willingness to sacrifice a little, we can have all these and continue being the best place to live anywhere. For the price of a reasonable tax increase, we can continue to forge ahead as a leader in wholesome recreational facilities for all age groups.

The reason we are now having a hard time to buy back "our" green space at vastly inflated prices is because of the same reason as when we sold it for a "song". We want to save on property taxes and pay as little as possible. While the value of local homes, such as GHI, have increased 1,000% since originally built property taxes have only increased by a small percentage. If we really want a better Greenbelt, we can afford more.

According to doctors, year-round swimming is the best preventive and treatment for arthritis, back and joint problems, heart and circulatory problems, and many other conditions that affect seniors and others. Swimming is one of the few intergenerational recreations that has no upper or lower age limits. The many persons with disabilities who testified at the original bond hearings indicated that, for many, swimming is an absolute necessity that enables them to continue to function as productive individuals. By being able to practice preventive medical care, Greenbelters over their life time can save much more on inflated medical bills than they would possibly spend on reasonably increased property taxes necessary to finance these payments.

Furthermore, these projects will increase the value of our homes because more people will want to live here. Let's not make a mistake by scrimping on taxes. I am convinced Greenbelters have enough vision and willingness to share for the good of all that they would be willing to pay for what we want and need. We do not need a referendum to prove this. Let us now begin to

THANKS

The Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Arts Center wishes to thank Eileen Peterson for a marvelous job in organizing and coordinating the Arts and Crafts Festival held on Greenbelt Day Weekend. Her efforts have reminded the Washington area what Greenbelt is all about: individual effort, community spirit, and a tradition of civic activism. The Festival showed everyone the possibilities of a Roosevelt Center restored to its original role as the heart of Greenbelt. Her hard work and meticulous planning made this Crafts Festival the best ever, and we all owe her our gratitude.

Thanks, Eileen, for a fantastic weekend!

Heritage Slipping

In the June 18 News Review, Tony Pisano states that changes in the past have only enhanced Roosevelt Mall, and we should let the highest bidder take over. Surely he doesn't mean the closing of Ben Franklin, which is now a vacant eyesore, or the landlord's neglect of leaking roofs and missing downspouts all over the shopping center have enhanced services to the community.

The Utopia Theater is in less than prime condition, but the owner must share the blame. If cold air wafts around people's ankles, it is because the owner installed a heating system designed for a warehouse, not a theater, after the shopping center's original boiler was condemned in 1980. As I recall, before the Arts Center took over, the theater spent several years as an empty shell — hardly "pleasing to the eye." For the last eight years, the Arts Center has been the only enterprise willing to occupy the space without the owner making extremely expensive repairs.

The citizens of Greenbelt are letting their heritage slip through their fingers. Some years ago, we sold off much of our green space, and we've been trying to buy it back ever since. Roosevelt Mall, once a cooperative enterprise, went to the "highest bidder", and a deteriorating community center is the result. There is no guarantee that the "highest bidder" for Mall space today will consider the welfare of the community. At various times, developers have discussed turning the Utopia Theater into a health spa, disco, or video game parlor. One proposal currently being discussed would turn most of the shopping center into office space — profitable during the day, perhaps, but a sterile landscape when the offices close. Rather than inviting nighttime patronage with businesses such as the Greenbelt Arts Center and High's, a Roosevelt Mall devoted to offices would leave our town center empty after working hours, inviting only decay and vandalism.

Greenbelt is based on community, on everyone working together for the common good, not on short-term profit. If we abdicate responsibility for our community center to the "highest bidder" there may be little to celebrate on our next anniversary.

Do fluoride mouth rinses reduce cavities?

Extensive clinical studies have shown that rinsing with a mild fluoride solution can reduce new cavities by as much as 40%. This rinse is used in addition to any other form of fluoride, such as tablets or vitamin combinations, fluoride toothpastes and in-office treatments. Even in areas where the water may be fluoridated, additional benefits can be derived from daily rinsing. Although fluoride rinses are available without a prescription, you should consult your family dentist before beginning regular use.

It is important to remember that no form of fluoride can completely prevent cavities, and periodic checkups are still the best way of assuring continued good dental health.

ter lake visitors from parking there. City Manager James K. Giese cited City Solicitor Robert Manzi's opinion that the ordinance is legally stronger with an allowance for short-term parking, since the affected roads are public streets. Mayor Gil Weidenfeld noted that 30-minute parking would not be of much use for lake park visitors who would use much of that time walking to and from the park.

Another concern was how permits would be distributed. Giese said both renters and property owners could obtain as many permits as they needed at no cost. Manzi said that while the city could not discriminate between renters and property owners, they could require some proof of residence.

Some residents question use of the police to enforce the 30-minute limit. Council Member Edward Putens said that he has heard people describe the $10 penalty for city parking tickets as a cheap weekend. Chief James Craze confirmed that for some visitors the parking fine is seen as a parking fee.

Council Member Antoinette Bram reported on her conversations with Boxwood residents who could not attend the meeting. One resident told her that the people who park along Boxwood streets probably live in apartments and condominiums and have a right to park where they can get to the lake.

Council Member Joseph Isaacs urged support for the bill. He said the permit system could be abandoned if it did not help the residents.

Giese noted that if the ordinance were enacted, and residents failed to display their permits during the restricted periods, they would be ticketed and would have to pay the fines.

The council, seeing no consensus among the residents, referred the ordinance back to the city staff for a review of the options and a survey of the residents. Weidenfeld noted that the law could not take effect until April 1988, so the failure to act now did not mean a delay in addressing the problem.

Unauthorized Dumping

Resident Julie Greer reported that the city has been disposing of trash in the area near the Northway ballfields. She showed the council pictures of buried trash and a chair the special trash crew had picked up from her home. She said a public works employee told her that the special trash crew was behind schedule, but not to worry about the trash because they cover it up and everyone dumps there.

Giese said flatly that while the city does dispose of leaves there, the other trash should not be there. He said the city is not running a dump and he would look into the situation.

New Soccer Team Wins International Tournament

by Manuel Pereira

It was an astounding win for the first season Greenbelt National Capital Soccer League (NCSL) team. In excellent play against long established teams from New York City, New Jersey, and Virginia the Greenbelters soared to victory in five hard fought games in their division in the Al Dougherty Memorial Soccer Tournament in Fairfax, Virginia over the Memorial Day weekend.

Over 215 teams from ages 8-18 participated with invitations going to teams from Canada, Europe, and Mexico as well as American teams. Greenbelt players and coaches returned with two-foot trophies and memories to last a lifetime as they added a special surprise to Greenbelt's 50th anniversary celebration by putting Greenbelt on the youth soccer map with their upset win as they headed into the concluding weeks of their first season in the National Capital Soccer League.

The first game against the Reston 76'ers set the tone for the rest of the tournament. The tough match ended with a difficult but deserved win of 1-0. Etim Edin scored, assisted by a brilliant play from Jamie Unterreiner (one of two guest players from MCAA, Greenbelt parent club in the League).

The second game, against the Crusaders from Chantilly, Virginia, was another tough one. The Crusaders played better than Greenbelt in the first half and scored two nice goals. In the second half, especially after a goal scored by wing T. J. Trimble who was in the right place at the right moment and caught the enthusiasm of the cheering supporters, Greenbelt dominated and pressed for a deserved tie, but the score of 1-2 didn't change.

The best played game came against the Red Raiders from Annandale, Virginia; a very well organized, skillful, experienced team that beat the other teams (4-0, 3-0, 5-2) in such a way that they seemed out of reach for Greenbelt. But not so to the Greenbelt team. When losing 0-2 the team kept playing better and better and strongly supported by the Greenbelters on the sidelines scored 4 goals that stunned the astonished Raiders! The Raiders still had the strength to score a third goal, but Greenbelt didn't allow them to go further and the final score was 4-3. Etim scored a "hat trick" (3 goals) and wing Kevin Lynch with one goal and one assist had a very important role in this game as well as in the tournament as a whole. Jason Everhart and Miguel Pereira also assisted Etim.

Then, to go to the finals Greenbelt had both to win and to shut-out the Kings Park 76'ers from Long Island, New York. It was a very tough, physically difficult game, especially at the end with the New Yorkers attacking, creating some dangerous situations and our defense and midfield resisting until the final whistle of the referee. The final score of 2-0, was in favor of Greenbelt. Both goals were scored by Etim with one assist by Miguel.

On Monday the team traveled to Reston where they played the final of the tournament against Greentree from Mt. Laurel, N.J. In this game Greenbelt showed its character, determination, and skills, deserving to win 2-1 against a very strong team. The three goals scored could have been scored in a professional game. Greentree scored first with an intelligent move and a final kick done with top soccer technique by its left wing. Then Greenbelt tied when Miguel scored by getting a ball from a defender that was in the process of stopping Etim, and shooting with such power and accuracy that it prompted the compliments of the referee.

The final goal was preceded by a very unusual and skillful triple header in the midfield. Jamie Despres (the other guest player from MCAA) headed the ball to Jason Everhart, who headed to Miguel who headed again assisting Etim who got the ball in front of him, ran all the way towards the goal and scored with an unstoppable shot.

Throughout the tournament Greenbelt impressed everyone with its offense, well supported by the midfield, scoring 10 beautiful goals and creating dangerous situations that gave goosebumps to the other teams. But the championship was for the most part due to the superior Greenbelt defense which allowed fewer goals to be scored than any other team in the group. Players like fullbacks Shawn Wilson, Mike Ring, and Ashish Khatta, midfielder Adam Wheatley, and wings Corey Lee and Tommy Bradley made a great contribution to the winning team effort.

The Greenbelt team is sponsored by Springhill Lake and the fees for this tournament were paid for by the Greenbelt Hilton.

Springhill Lake Honors Internat'l Soccer Champs

The National Capital Soccer League Greenbelt Flyers, who are sponsored by Springhill Lake, played three days of outstanding soccer over Memorial Day weekend against long-established teams from New York City, New Jersey, and Virginia as they soared to victory in their division. Over 215 teams from ages 8-18 participated in the international tournament that included teams from Canada, Europe, and Mexico as well as American teams.

To honor the team, a public reception was held by Springhill Lake at the Fountain Lodge on June 10. Players and their families mingled with community leaders and residents as they shared stories from the memorable weekend and viewed the final victory on the Lodge's wide screen TV. In appreciation to Springhill Lake for their support, the team presented a coach's trophy and team photograph to the Springhill Lake Community. Also special thanks were given to the Greenbelt Hilton Hotel and the Capital Office Park for providing funding for the team's participation in this tournament.

Federal Retirement Options Featured on Program on B-10

The Greenbelt Municipal Access Channel has obtained a program that will interest many federal employees. Beginning July 1, over 2 million federal employees must choose between their current and a new retirement system. Their choice is irrevocable and must be made by Dec. 31.

In order to help employees make informed choices, the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) has developed a one-hour videotape entitled, "Today's News, Special Edition". Viewers will learn about the characteristics of the old and the new retirement plans, meet and get to know seven "typical" federal employees, and learn which plan each employee chose and why.

"Today's News, Special Edition" will air on Channel B-10 June 29 and 30, July 1, 2, 6, 7 and 8. Each evening it will air at 7 p.m. for an hour.

Among the dignitaries present were Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, Council Member Joe Isaacs (also a Lion) and his wife, City Manager Jim Giese (a former Lion), Deputy District Governor Charlie Mills and his wife, and incoming District Governor Les Whitaker, and his wife. Governor elect Whitaker performed the installation ceremony.

Youth Center and Recreation Director Hank Irving was installed as president and King Lion. Other officers inducted were Roland Hoke as 1st Vice President, Barry Bleckman as 2nd Vice President, Jack Maffey as 3rd Vice President, Jose Moralyes as Secretary, and Joe Wilkinson as Treasurer.

"Bud" Cormack received accolades as "Lion of the Year."

Band Concert at Lake

The National Concert Band of America will perform at the Buddy Attick Park on Sunday, June 28 at 7 p.m. All residents and guests are welcome. Bring a chair or blanket.

His tremendous dedication and performance as District 22-C newsletter editor, membership chairman, and club editor has been recognized not only in the Greenbelt Club but also on the district, national, and international levels.

Lion Mike Greeze served as M.C. for the evening and kept the audience in good humor with his interesting chit-chat, interpretations, and impressions. D. J. Dave Sutherland provided mood music for cocktails and dinner, plus big band melodies for dancing. Many Lions and their guests stayed until closing time (midnight) as D.J. Dave livened up the festivities by leading them in the chicken dance and the hokey pokey.

Greenbelt Seniors Co-ed Softball Team Scores Win

by Jerry Conway

On June 17 the Greenbelt Senior Citizens Slow Pitch Softball Team scored a smashing victory over the Rockville Seniors at Layhill Park by a score of 12-6. Jerry Conway scored a homerun; Bill Grennon scored a triple; and Burt Kerr scored his first triple of this year's season. All of these hits drove in runners on base which helped our team to win its fourth game. Ruth Wigley played catcher during this seven inning game.

The most challenging game of the season will be played at Layhill Park on Wednesday, June 24. The Greenbelt Seniors will be the home team against the Olney Seniors who are now in first place with five wins and no losses. Our Seniors will strive to do our best in hitting and fielding during this most challenging game.
